The Washington County Case

ANOTHER DECISION AGAINST THE COUNTING-OUT CONSPIRATORS.

OPINION OF THE FULL BENCH.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.
Charles B. Rounds pet. v. Ephraim K. Smart.

APPLETON, C. J. This is a proceeding under c. 198 of the acts of 1880, being "an act providing for the trial of causes involving the rights of parties to hold Public Offices," in which the petitioner claims that he has been elected County Attorney for the County of Washington, and that the respondent has unlawfully and wrongfully usurped that office and prevented him from holding and exercising the same.

Numerous objections are made to the petitioner's right to maintain this process.

1. The suit is in the nature of a proceeding in equity. By the Statute it is "to be commenced by petition, returnable before any justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, in term time or vacation in the County where either of the parties resides or where the duties of such office are to be performed," &c. The petition was made returnable at the April term, 1880, of the Supreme Judicial Court, to be holden at Calais in and for the County of Washington. The notice ordered was such as is usually given in equity cases and it was duly served.

The objections taken are that the justice holding the April term had no jurisdiction, and that the time of hearing was not endorsed on the petition, and for these causes it was moved that the petition should be dismissed.

This motion was overruled and properly. The petition was made returnable in term time. The justice holding that term, is the justice having jurisdiction. The time of hearing was the term at which the petition was made returnable, and that was stated in the order of notice and endorsed on the petition.

2. It is urged that the petition does not state that the petitioner was eligible to the office to which he claims to have been lawfully elected. The petitioner alleges he was lawfully elected to the office in controversy. The petition follows the precise words of the Statute, which was enacted to protect the rights of such as were lawfully elected. If the petitioner was so elected he is within the words and spirit of the act.

3. The point is taken that by this act vested rights are impaired.

But such is not the case. There is no vested right in an office, which the legislature may create or destroy, as it judges most consonant to the public interest. This was settled in Farwell v. Rockland, 62 Maine 296, in accordance with the decisions of the highest tribunals of the several States where the question has arisen. Such, too, was the conclusion to which the Supreme Court of the United States arrived in Butler v. Pennsylvania, 10 How. (113) 403.

This act only provides for a new process to determine the rights of parties. The rules of evidence remain unchanged. Before, as after its passage, the rights of the parties litigant are determined by the greater or lesser number of votes they respectively receive.

But there can be no vested right in any particular mode of procedure. The forms of process are subject to legislative discretion. The object of this particular change was two fold—to give a summary remedy to parties aggrieved and to diminish the expenses of litigation by accomplishing by one process what before required two processes—both dilatory and expensive—the writs of quo warranto and mandamus. But what right is taken away? As was well said by Woodworth J. in The People v. Tibbetts, 4 Cow. 384, in reference to a statute passed for a similar purpose, "Are the defendants divested of their defence upon the merits? Their saying that the proceeding is hastened in point of form makes nothing for them. They have no right to complain of this. It is complaining that he is put upon his defence to-day, whereas he has a right to delay till to-morrow, a singular kind of vested right, a right to delay justice. Are not the legislature competent to take away or abridge such an evil? It is most important that they should possess this power. The pretence of the defendants does not merit the name of a right. It relates to the remedy." In the case cited the act applied at once to all suits. So in New Hampshire, the rules of evidence were changed, but it was claimed that the change did not effect pending suits but the court in Rich v. Flanders, 39 N. H. 304, held that no one could acquire a vested right in the testimony of a particular witness, or in its exclusion. In Ewing v. Filley & al, 43 Penn. 384, a statute, like the one under consideration, passed for the purpose of expediting decisions in cases of contested elections, was held constitutional. All this Statute does is to provide a speedy remedy for the redress of a grievous wrong.

4. The office of County Attorney is the creature of the Legislature. It exists only by virtue of the Statute, which fixes its tenure, prescribes its duties and determines its compensation. Whether the office shall be holden under appointment of the Governor and Council or by election are alike matters dependant on the legislative will. So, that will may change its duties, diminish its compensation or repeal the Statute by force of which alone it exists, and no vested rights will thereby be impaired.

In 1845 in answer to inquiries proposed by the Governor as to the powers of the Governor and Council as a canvassing board in relation to county officers, this Court in their answer held that they should not receive any other evidence in relation to the votes, than what the certificates so prepared, transmitted and received according to the constitution may contain. 25 Maine 565. In other words, that they were limited to what should appear of record.

At that time the Statute of 1842 c. 3 was in force by which it was provided that the votes to be collected in the different towns, for the choice of county officers "shall be received, sorted, counted and declared in like manner as the votes for representatives" that is, as is provided in the constitution as to those officers. This decision was in strict accordance with the then existing Statute and has ever been followed by this Court while that Statute remained in force.

But since the opinion of this Court in 25 Maine 568 the Statute on the subject has been materially changed. So that the opinion is entirely inapplicable to the Statute law now in force.

By c. 212 of the acts of 1877, enacted to amend R. S. c. 78, §5, as amended by c. 62 of the Public laws of 1862, it is provided that "the Governor and Council on or before the first day of December in each year, shall open and compare the votes so returned, and may receive testimony on oath to prove that the return from any town does not agree with the record of the vote of such town in the number of votes or the names of the persons voted for, and to prove which of them is correct, and the return when erroneous may be corrected by the record. * * But, in order to ascertain what persons have received the highest number of votes, the Governor and Council shall count and declare for any person all votes intentionally cast for such person although his name upon the ballot is misspelled or written with only the initial or initials of his Christian name or names; and they may hear testimony upon oath, in relation to such votes, in order to get at the intention of the elector, and decide accordingly. * In all cases where a return is defective, by reason of any informality, a duly attested copy of the record may be substituted therefor."

This act is in terms made applicable in determining the election of all county officers. The Governor and Council as a canvassing board are bound to obey its requirements. They cannot do otherwise without a manifest violation of law. Nor can it for a moment be pretended that this Statute violates any provisions of the constitution. The same power which creates a canvassing board may determine the limits within which it may act and prescribe its rules of action.

That the canvassing board is not a judicial body and that in election cases the contestants for elective County offices may have their rights determined by appropriate processes, was fully settled in Prince v. Skillin and the cases there cited. The decision of the canvassing board, is only prima facie evidence and not conclusive in direct proceedings to try the right by quo warranto. "But," remarks Bronson J. in The People v. Vail, 20 Wend. 12, "to hold it conclusive in this proceeding (Quo Warranto) would be nothing less than saying that the will of the electors plainly expressed in the forms prescribed by law, may be utterly defeated by the negligence, mistake or fraud of those who are appointed to register the results of an election."

5. By the tabulation of the Governor and Council the votes of seven towns were thrown out by them acting as a canvassing board. But no objection is now taken to their being counted and no reason shown why they should not be counted, save in the case of Calais. It would seem to be conceded that with this exception named, they were wrongfully thrown out. Indeed the respondent in the tabulation presented by him places his right to the office in question upon the exclusion of the votes of Calais, admitting thereby that if the vote of that city is counted, the petitioner is undoubtedly elected.

The return of the votes of the City of Calais was in due form, save that it wanted the signature of the City Clerk. It could not be legally counted without his attestation. 68 Maine 587. But by the act of 1877 (212, subsequently (*) passed, it was provided that "in all cases when a return is defective, by reason of any informality, a duly attested copy of the record may be substituted therefor." The evidence shows that a corrected copy of the record duly authenticated was offered but the canvassing board declined even to receive it.

This Statute is of the highest equity. The will of the people should not be defeated by the negligence or fraud of municipal officers. If their error or mistake is not correctible, any town clerk by omitting intentionally his signature, might nullify the votes of his town without possibility of correction. The corrected copy should have been received. The canvassing board were under legal obligation to receive the substitute as the original but defective record. The same authority which required them to receive and act upon the record first furnished, required their action upon the corrected and substituted record. The will of the legislature is expressed with equal clearness in each case.

But whether the canvassing-board were bound to receive and act on the substituted copy or not is immaterial, for it is properly in evidence before us. It is conceded, that if not impeached it establishes the fact of the petitioner's election to the office claimed for taking defendant's tabulation and counting the vote for Calais, he has a plurality of two hundred and seventy-six. It is for the respondent to show cause if any exists why this return is not valid and in accordance with the truth.

It is not alleged, still less proved, that illegal votes were cast—that legal votes were rejected—that the count was not fair or that the number of votes returned by the city clerk as cast were not cast. There is no allegation of fraud, intimidation or bribery. The question is whether there are such neglects or omissions as necessitate the disfranchisement of the voters of Calais without fraud or neglect on their part.

A copy of the record of the votes of Calais as canvassed by the Aldermen and recorded by the City Clerk was produced. This was competent evidence to prove the vote of the city.

In two Wards the objection is taken that the Ward Clerks of the preceding year continued to act without a new election. But this is in strict accordance with R. S. c. 8 § 21, which provided that a warden or clerk duly elected "shall hold their office one year therefrom, and until others are chosen and qualified in their places."

The Statute is in accordance with the common law as decided in Brown v. Lunt, 37 Maine 423, where the acts of a justice of the peace, whose commission had expired were held valid as the acts of a justice of the peace de facto, Mr. Justice Howard in his opinion, deciding that town officers holding over were to be regarded as officers de facto.

It may not be amiss to add that the acting clerk was called by the respondent and testified that the return truly stated the number of votes cast for the several candidates.

The objection is taken that in one of the wards one of its officers was not sworn.

A poll is not to be rejected because officers have been illegally chosen. Thompson v. Ewing, 1 Brewster 69. The neglect of the inspectors or clerks to take any oath will not vitiate an election nor will its irregular administration if sworn upon a book other than the holy evangelists as on Watts Psalms and Hymns. People v. Cook, 8 N. Y. 68. The office of canvassers is purely ministerial and the fact that some of the judges of election do not appear to have been properly sworn is no objection to the validity of their returns. People v. Hilliard, 29 Ill. 413. The rules for conducting an election contained in the Statute are directory and not jurisdictional in their character. They are intended to afford all citizens an opportunity to exercise their right to vote, to prevent illegal votes and to ascertain with certainty the true number of votes and for whom cast. The decisions are that the acts of public officers being in by color of an election or appointment, are valid so far as the public are concerned. The People v. Cook, 8 N. Y. 84.

But if there should be found an irregularity in the ward in which a ward officer was not sworn, and if it were to be held that the voters in that ward were to be deprived of the right of suffrage for no fault of their own still the result would not be changed. The whole vote of the city is not thereby lost. By rejecting the ward in which the irregularity occurred, no matter which ward, the petitioner would still be elected. But little reason exists for rejection as all the witnesses called by the respondent testify to the correctness of the return and the fairness of the proceedings, and there is no evidence to the contrary.

It seems that the City Clerk at the time the Aldermen met to sum up the ward returns, entered on his record the names of all the Aldermen supposing they would all be present but as all were not, he erased the names of the absent. The erasure made the record conform to the fact and in so doing the Clerk only did his duty.

So, it appears that errors occurred in the copying of ward returns but they are trivial and do not change the result. In any event they show the election of the petitioner.

The evidence shows in some instances carelessness and negligence in some of the city officials—but nothing indicating intention at fraud or affecting the result. The witnesses of the respondent testify in every instance where the inquiry is made to the correctness of the returns.

This Court in 68 Maine 588 use the following language: "It is to be regretted that votes are lost by the negligence or ignorance of town officer, but the obvious remedy is to choose such as know their duty, and knowing it will legally perform it. To provide ample means for the correction of errors provision was made the next year after his answer by the act of 1877, c. 212. The wisdom of the act is apparent. It enables the canvassing board within certain limits to give effect to the will of the people and to disregard the captious quibblings by which the attempt is sometimes made to deprive citizens of their most important political rights without an opportunity to be heard.

The title to an elective office is derived from the popular expression at the ballot box. It is the manifest duty of all holding official positions to give full effect to the will of the people as thus expressed. "Courts of Justice," remarks the Court in Mann v. Cassiday, 1 Brewster 60, "would deserve to lose all confidence and respect if they were astute in devising technical rules under which the dearest rights of the people could be destroyed by unworthy men. We will not consent to be a party to such a system."

FOR DOVER.

There is a promise of a large attendance at the mass meeting to be held at Dover to-day. The people will gather from all that section of the country to take counsel together, to listen to the words of the speakers, and to buckle on their armor anew for the conflict. The County Convention will be held in the forenoon, and in the afternoon will occur the grand mass meeting, to be addressed by Gen. Woodford and Hon. William P. Frye. The Loyal League of the city, accompanied by the Bangor Band, will join in the exercises, and participate in a torch-light procession in the evening. A special train for Dover will leave the depot, foot of Exchange street, this afternoon, at precisely one o'clock, to return after the exercises in the evening, reaching here, probably, at midnight. The tickets are but one dollar for the round trip. A large number will doubtless go outside of the political organization.

COMING.

Seven Fusionists in this city yesterday placed their names to the Republican club book, and announced their intention of henceforth acting with the Republican party. This is the history of nearly every day throughout the State. While the Democratic press points occasionally with seeming pride to here and there a sore-headed, office-seeking Republican going over to their ranks, the converts the other way are reckoned by scores and hundreds. The tide is setting strongly in the right direction. The Fusion leaders are not so blind, but they see it.

It's a pretty good indication that the Boston Herald is very nearly right, politically, when the Post pitches into it.

A NEW FRAUD.

One would suppose that in the year of our Lord, 1880, the world had grown sufficiently advanced to be pretty well posted in all imaginable rascality; the possibilities of the Democratic party in the United States in this line appear, however, to be infinite. Not content through fraud and violence with controlling what votes there are in the South, they are systematically paving the way for an indefinite expansion of Democratic representation in Congress through the facilities afforded by their control of the census in that section. It is hardly credible that a State like South Carolina, whose financial and political policy has driven from its borders thousands of voters, both white and colored, should show a larger percentage of increase than some of our Western States, whither a mighty tide of emigration has flowed for the past ten years, and whose natural increase, taking into consideration soil, climate and the character of the population, must have been much greater. Yet such is the fact if the census returns are to be trusted.

We take these figures from the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier which certainly does not put forth figures in the interest of the hated Radicals

	1870	1880	Increase
Edgefield County	20,243	41,138	78 5 } 26 513
Barnwell "	35,724	39,566	14,00
Horry "	10,721	15,581	48 0
Lexington "	12,038	18,587	55.0
Marlboro "	11,814	20,513	87.39

To the gain of the two counties of Barnwell and Edgefield, given above, must be added the whole population of Aiken, set off from these counties since 1870, making a total gain of 38,450 from a population only ten years ago of but 78,216.

With regard to the other three counties above noted we quote from a letter of a Charleston correspondent of the Providence Journal

Horry county is in a wilderness, and not a railroad in it, and has an increase of 50 per cent Lexington, a sandy, sterile county, an increase of 50 per cent, Marlboro', a county away from railroads, with nothing to attract any one, an increase of 82 per cent. The fraud is so palpable that any one may see it

The gain in the State according to the editorial in the Charleston News and Courier from which we quote, is estimated at an average of 35 per cent, and it closes its article congratulating its readers on the result with the following significant remarks

It is as likely as not that the census report will be severely criticised at the next meeting of Congress, since it exhibits some marvelous and apparently unaccountable results; but we are perfectly safe in saying that, if there has been any counting up anywhere, more of it will be found to have been done in the North than in the South, where experience in such modes of flanking awkward facts is either rare or entirely unknown

This is a confession in itself, a plea of not guilty before the indictment is drawn

DEMOCRATIC HEROES THE RESULT OF UNION FAILURES.

Gen. W. S. Rosecrans has issued a call to Union soldiers inviting them very blandly to vote the Democratic ticket. It is a noticable fact that during the war every soldier of rank, who was unfortunate in command (which is another word for cowardice or incompetency), and was removed by higher authorities, is eager and always has been eager, for the success of the Democratic ticket.

The abandonment of the field of Chickamauga by Gen Rosecrans made that General a Democrat Had it not been for Gen Thomas' gallant stand, the Union army would have been annihilated.

The much-abused Fitz John Porter, cashiered by a court of his peers, is an ardent Democrat

McClellan, after having nearly ruined the army of the Potomac through his snail like slowness and indecision, became a Democrat

Butler, the worst military failure of any war, whom the Copperheads formerly delighted in designating as "Beast Butler, and other pet and endearing names, has, like the scriptural dog "returned to his vomit" and melted away again into his native element, becoming a Democrat

Even Plaisted who had he spent as much effort in four years of war in working up a military reputation, as he has during fifteen years of peace, would have had the loftiest fame in the nation, has become a Democrat

And lastly, Samuel J Anderson of Portland, the gallant leader of the Maine "Boys in Blue," is a Democrat

Our readers, however, will not fail to take notice that these Democratic soldiers will have in this campaign the Confederate army behind them, as they were accustomed to have during the war

As Hale said when he nominated Plaisted, "his military record at the present time is not against him," so say we, from a Democratic stand-point, the record of none of these gentlemen is particularly objectionable The most of the Union soldiers who are Democrats, are so because of their failures

ANOTHER DECISION

We publish on our first page another of the decisions of the Supreme Court of Maine on one of the counting-out cases It has just been rendered, and like those preceding it, is stamped with the same vigor of thought, legal acumen and loyalty to the expressed will of the people. The case involved is that of the County Attorney of the county of Washington—Ephraim K Smart, Democrat, holding the place, wrongfully usurping the office, to which the people had by a pronounced majority chosen Charles B. Rounds. Smart is the fellow who cut such a sorry figure before the investigating committee last winter, and Mr. Rounds is the gentleman who challenged the Governor and Council to show the returns, asserting that the alterations he specified would be exhibited. They dared not accept the challenge, for the facts bore out Mr. Rounds' charges.

In this case, as in all the others, the Court decided against the usurpers, and that the officer whom the people had elected should fill the place. This, like the repeated decisions that have preceded it, will be referred to in all time to come as among the safeguards of the ballot box.

A correspondent asks a difficult question

I see by your paper that Stephen Jennings will leave the State, with his business, unless the State goes Democratic this fall. Query by a rural voter, who wants to vote the Republican ticket, but don't want to lose Mr. Jennings: Now if the rural voters will turn to and elect a Democratic State ticket in September, and the United States are so thoughtless in November as to elect Garfield President, will Mr. Jennings leave the United States, so that we shall lose our State election and Mr. Jennings too?

All the great trunk railroads are able to show an astonishing increase both in their gross receipts and net profits. There is no surer index than this of general prosperity. When the carrying business is brisk and lucrative, it follows of necessity that the industries of the country are in a healthy condition.

CARY'S MEETING.

"America's Greatest General, S. F. Cary, will on this evening, address the people of Cardiff, on the subject of Temperance." That was the legend an American traveller read on a handbill in Cardiff, Wales, in the year of our Lord, 1870. But that was before "America's Greatest General" had heard of General Plaisted, or ever read his autobiography. When that bill was pasted on the walls of Cardiff little did he think that ten years afterwards he would stump this State for the hero of the Swamp Angel battery. But Cary can adapt himself to any phase or condition of life. He has boxed every point of the political compass. He has been a temperance lecturer, a Republican, a real horny-handed laborer for votes, then a Democrat playing the part of a big dog under the wagon, next a Greenbacker and the biggest toad in the puddle until the puddle dried up, and now he is a Democrat again. He is an entertaining speaker, likes his fifty dollars a night for abusing capitalists, and trying to incite the prejudices of laboring men against their employers, and stirring up strife among parties that should entertain towards each other the most friendly relations. Such wild communistic talk as that made by Gen Cary last night is only possible during a Fusion dispensation, and sensible men who heard him will wonder at the possibility of the human mind grasping and retaining such trash

THE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION

The Democrats of this city have paid the fares of a half dozen men of their political persuasion to attend the so-called Temperance Convention in Portland, to-day the real object of which is to injure the Republican party by the nomination of a third candidate for Governor These men will go to the convention, support such a project, and then return, and vote solidly for Plaisted. That is the depth of their sincerity, which we trust will be fully exposed at the convention. When free-rum papers like the Bangor Commercial, the Maine Standard, and the Eastern Argus encourage the holding of this convention, and the level-headed, consistent temperance men of the State, like Gov Perham, Hon. Nelson Dingley, John S. Kimball, Col. Crossman, Rev Mr. Randall, and Hon. Anson P Morrill, discourage it, a discerning mind may easily see that the whole affair is a dodge to help the waning Fusion cause The whole thing will prove an ignominious failure. No true temperance man will strike at the Republican party of Maine, for it has given to us all of the enactments that have placed to Maine in the foremost position on this question among the States in the Union.

POLITICAL NOTES

Reports from various parts of the country are to this effect "I know of no Republicans about here who will not vote for Garfield, but I have heard of a number of Democrats who avow themselves opposed to Hancock and in favor of Garfield"

It is reported that Congressman Proctor Knott has been mortally wounded by J. W Lewis, a Greenback candidate

Stephen A Douglass, Jr, a son of the great deceased statesman, is making campaign speeches for Garfield and Arthur in Illinois

The canvass in Vermont and the other States, especially in those in which the elections are comparatively early this fall, is being carried on with great earnestness and enthusiasm. Indications of Republican success are said to be most favorable in all the reports received at the rooms of the National Committee in New York

Jeff Davis is among the sojourners at Atlantic City, N J, where, instead of being "let alone, he is the hero of the southern guests and the idol of northern Democrats.

The Indiana Democrats begin to be alarmed about their chances in October

Sing a song of shot guns
Pockets full of knives,
Four and twenty black men
Running for their lives,
When the polls are open
Shut the niggers mouth
Isn't that a bully way
To make a Solid South?

POLITICAL ESPIONAGE

THIS YEAR'S PLAN DISCOVERED.

It will be remembered how the Fusionists last year sent secret spies and lying reporters through Maine after the election, for the purpose of preparing the public mind for the great crime, which was then contemplated of overthrowing the will of the people in the Executive Office and Council Chamber at Augusta

The testimony made up out of whole cloth, of bribery etc., is not yet forgotten, where it was made to appear that the Fusionists were saints, and Republicans were awful beings. These romance writers, and self-constituted detectives were paid from a fund raised from the Democratic party, as many a one of that organization has told the writer.

The whole plot was turned upon the miserable perpetrators, and this year they mean to try a new game, and we want the honest, frank, unsuspecting citizens of the State to be on their guard.

The plan agreed upon is well known, but we shall go no further now, than simply to state that the men are known, and the mode of procedure is known, that we know some of these men, and know the plan Look out for all strangers, who attempt to lead you into political conversation. They are spies from the enemy's camp.

Watch carefully the Fusion leaders and you will see that we have raised no false alarm. To-day as we write, the advance guard of these spies is in Maine. A very sly old fox was through the State last week. We know it. Fusionists and not Republicans, are in the market with Democratic money, trying to purchase the honest vote of this commonwealth.—People's Advocate, Damariscotta.

The census returns begin to come in for the States, and we are now in a position to estimate the growth of our population during the past decade. Exclusive of the territories, it will be about forty-eight and a half millions, a gain of over ten millions in ten years. This confirms the more moderate estimates of our growth which were made before the census was taken. As regards the cities, the results are what might have been predicted. Philadelphia has not reached that million, and did not expect to do so this time. She has something less than eight hundred and fifty thousand, with a fair prospect of outgrowing every other city on the continent during the next half century, and of resuming her old place as the chief of American cities. St. Louis is distanced at last by Chicago, though we seriously doubt the permanence of this relative position.

Several weeks since Gen. Roberts advertised for the formation of a Democratic campaign club, to be composed of veteran soldiers. How is the General getting along? Has he had many recruits? Does he find the soldiers fighting that way, this year? Prompt answers are expected to these questions,

NOT TO BE SCARED BY A MUD-MACHINE.

BANGOR, Aug. 18, 1880.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

I have first noticed this evening in the columns of the Bangor Commercial two editorials in the nature of attack upon and challenge to myself. That disreputable sheet has previously indulged in a great deal of what it has styled "challenging" of myself to a discussion of something which it calls the "financial issues," with somebody whom it does not mention, and now it is resorting to personal slander in an attempt to intimidate or black-mail me as a Congressional candidate.

Messrs. Joseph P. Bass and Daniel Sanborn, and those who stand behind them in their disgraceful work, may as well understand now, if they have failed to learn the fact already, that the undersigned cannot be frightened by any mud-machine, that their revival of slandering insinuations which I have hitherto treated with merited contempt will not prove such pleasant diversion for them as they imagine, and that having joined issue deliberately with the infamous gang that they represent and champion, I propose to "fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

And in view of the repeated but indefinite "challenges" flung out in that organ of the Fusion State stealers, I have to say that I will meet their gubernatorial standard-bearer, Gen. H M Plaisted, the figure-head and chief exponent of the fraud-combination in this State, for a discussion of the issues and candidates involved in the State and National campaign, before the people of this city, in Norombega Hall, under such regulations as may be agreed upon by the Republican and Fusion City Committees, on any evening after Monday, August 23d, (except August 30th and September 11th,) and that I will cancel any other engagement I may have at the time, if he will name the date within the next three days

I have always thought it the best plan for each party to arrange its own canvass and present its arguments in its own way, but if the Fusionists really want discussion with me, let their chief promptly respond or let them hereafter "forever hold their peace."

Very respectfully yours,
C. A. BOUTELLE

THE MAINE MUDDLE

AND HOW PLAISTED'S NOMINATION IS REGARDED BY A SOLDIER BOY WHO LOST HIS RIGHT ARM FIGHTING DEMOCRATS DOWN SOUTH.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

I am a Bangor boy, and as such take great interest in Maine's present campaign. I see that things are fearfully mixed in my dear old State, can it be that that weak offspring of the old rebel copperhead "Democrat" newspaper, that we boys pitched into the street for abusing our soldiers, has really taken General H M Plaisted to its arms! Oh! what fearful, awful names the poor old "Democrat" used to call Plaisted and all other soldiers. What can it mean? Has H. M. P. turned Copperhead and endorsed all the old "Democrat" and its weaker offspring's sayings, or has the "Democrat" endorsed H. M. P's war record? Anyway I will tell you how it looks to me Any Union soldier that will sell himself to the Democratic party as dry nurse, needs watching, and I would say to the old soldiers of Maine, look out for Plaisted, he is trying to hold up the drooping head of that shameless party that voted and talked against us while we were fighting in the field Any soldier that will do that should have his name forever erased from the roll of honor

But Plaisted has ways that are queer, and always had. I remember when he first began to hunger and thirst after office, soon after he came to Bangor, he wanted to go to Augusta, oh! awful bad, so he left nothing undone that would help him on to glory Just a few days before election he got some one to hand his name into the Lodge of Good Templars in Bangor, he was elected to membership in the Lodge, came just that one night, and never, no never, came to a single Lodge meeting after. He cared no more for temperance than a hen does for an overcoat If he ever did care for temperance what in the name of all that is great and good is the Democratic party doing with him as its leader? Mixed! Oh shades of our fathers, who ever saw such a mixed up mess A Union soldier hushed up by the silly Greenbackers and fed to the starving Copperhead party. Watch him boys' watch him! He has well himself to the enemy. Don't let the Democratic party pull wool over your eyes by taking a soldier for a figure head they hope to appear loyal and get your votes. You know too well just what the Democratic party said about you while you were fighting at the South, and now will you forget it all, simply because one of your number has been weak and disloyal enough to allow himself to be chief mourner at the approaching Democratic-Greenback funeral? No! No! Boys don't do it. It was disgrace enough to let Ladd go to Washington after his sickening record as a copperhead and his open sympathy with the rebels, without giving yourselves more to answer for by letting the Democratic party get into power just by shaking a "General's" uniform in your faces and shouting, "follow your leader." See to it, comrades, that the honest "Corporal" is again made Governor, and the weak "General" made to regret that he pawned his uniform and commission to a party that care nothing for either only as they will be of use in catching soldiers' votes.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Herbert Spencer's latest and greatest work, The Data of Ethics, forms the ninth number of the Humboldt Library of Popular Science, published by J Fitzgerald & Co, 143 4th Av, N. Y. It essays to establish a basis for morality in the physical and psychical constitution of man, and in his necessary sociological relations. The work is strictly constructive and conservative, does not attempt to revolutionize the world of Ethics, but to rationalize it, and to show that the sanctions of morality are inherent in man's nature and sufficient by themselves, without the intervention of extraneous precepts or prohibitions. It has been decided to continue enlistment up to next Saturday night.

GRAND ARMY EXCURSION. The excursion and clam-bake Friday under the auspices of Post Beale No. 12, G. A. R., promises to be a fine affair, as tickets are selling rapidly and every exertion is being made to make it one of the most successful events of the season. The Bangor Band will accompany the excursion, and this fact alone is an inducement for a large company. As the number of tickets is limited those who do not wish to be left out should apply at once. The excursion will return early in the evening.

The attention of all persons, male and female, desiring employment, is called to the advertisement of M. A. Parks.

NOT SO EASY. An exchange says: The women who fancied they were to have an easy time with their dress-making this fall, are saddened when they open the Bazar and find in it a picture of a gown which has a polonaise opening at the back to show a train with fifty-three shirrings between the waist and the hem, and also has a shirred vest, shirrings visible in the lozenge-shaped opening of the sleeves, and under the collar at the back of the neck. An encouraging companion to this gown is a mantle of which the whole front and the sleeve gore are laid in shirrings.

PROBABLY A FATAL ACCIDENT. As the mixed train for Bangor was crossing the bridge over the Sebasticook stream, at Pittsfield yesterday morning, Arthur Philbrook, baggage master and brakeman, was thrown from the cars into the water and sustained very serious, if not fatal injuries. The water in the stream was very low and he was found about thirty minutes after the train passed and carried to the Lancey House, where he was attended by a physician. He remained unconscious most of the time yesterday and could give no account of the accident. It is supposed, however, that he was on the platform of the car looking at a new brake, when he was struck by the bridge.

FIRST MAINE HEAVY ARTILLERY. A few of the surviving members of the First Maine Heavy Artillery met last evening at the store of Comrade Dole. A good degree of interest was manifested, and as a reunion had not been held for some years all wanted a celebration this year if possible. In view of the anniversary of the muster in of the regiment, it was voted that a reunion be held at Dover on Wednesday September eighth, on the occurrence of the muster of the Piscataquis Battalion. All members of the regiment who can possibly attend are requested to report the fact to Comrade J. A. Dole, Bangor, as early as possible, that all necessary arrangements of transportation may be completed. It is hoped that all that can, will go and help make the reunion a joyous occasion.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC OARSMAN. Mr. Thomas Healey, the popular baggage master on the Bath train, is an enthusiastic oarsman. Monday, he launched out into the Kennebec, in a particularly ticklish and nervous little craft. To an observer from the shore, Mr. H. seemed suddenly to make up his mind to abandon the boat, and he rolled over the fragile bulwarks into the water. Of course Mr. H. was perfectly cool. The temperature of the water was not high; he had a good grip on the little scull, and he saw a rescuing party coming out from the shore. Without any regard for Mr. Healey's feelings, the rescuers ungracefully pulled him out of the water and carried him home to dry. The train men are getting up a set of complimentary resolutions, to be presented to the most aquatic baggage-master on the Maine Central Railroad.

AN AMUSING ANSWER. Rather an amusing incident occurred in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, during the progress of an assault case. The complainant, a boy about thirteen years old, while stating his version of the case, said that he went down into the brick yard to help some one sift a lot of sand, when the respondent assaulted him. Shortly after this statement was made Recorder Perkins, before whom the case was tried, remarked to the witness: "So you had made a previous agreement to help this person sift the sand, and were on your way to fulfill your contract when this man made the assault upon you?" The boy looked at him for an instant and then replied: "No sir; I was on my way to sift sand." It is needless to say that the answer caused quite a ripple of laughter in the court room.

BAND EXCURSION. The barge Clifford and steamer Ralph Ross sailed down river yesterday morning for Fort Point and Northport, with an excursion party numbering about three hundred and fifty. Of the bands and military that started from this city there were the Bangor Band, twenty pieces, the Milford Band, fifteen pieces, the Jameson Guards, forty men, the Hersey Light Infantry, of Oldtown, forty-three men, and the Second Regiment field and staff officers. At Hampden the Crosby Guards came aboard. The companies presented a fine appearance in their new uniforms. A short street parade was given before taking the boat and the fine marching of the men was the occasion of favorable comment. At Fort Point there was a drill, dance and concert in which both bands rendered some superb music. The boats arrived here on their return at about ten o'clock, and the Hersey Light Infantry immediately took the cars for home.

COLBY UNIVERSITY. President Robins, of Colby University, in a letter to the Zion's Advocate says the terms of Colby University have been arranged as follows: There will be two terms in the academical year. The first term will open on the first of September, 1880. In this term there will be two sessions. The first session will continue eleven and a half weeks, closing on the 20th of November. At the end of this session an examination will be held. After a recess, from the 21st of November to the 27th of November, inclusive, the second session will begin on Sunday the 28th, and continue eight and one-half weeks, closing on the 26th of January, 1881. Here will follow a vacation, continuing from the 27th day of January to the 8th day of March, inclusive, being five weeks and six days. The second term will open on the 9th day of March, 1880, and, continuing sixteen weeks, will close on the 29th day of June. Here will follow a vacation continuing until September.

MR. BATES' SUBSCRIPTION TO BATES COLLEGE. It is reported, although the Bates College authorities have no official advices to that effect, that the commissioners of the probate court of the county of Middlesex, Mass., have reported adversely to the claim of the college to Mr. Bates' $100,000 subscription. The report is that the commissioners base their decision on the fact that part of the $100,000 subscription to be raised outside by the college, is in notes. The commissioners are quoted as remarking that a jury on an appeal might give a different construction to the phraseology of the conditions of Mr. Bates' subscription. It seems that $63,000 was raised in cash (of which President Cheney paid $11,000) and the balance in good interest-bearing notes. Of the notes, one is for $25,000, given by the Free Baptist Educational Society, with assets of over $40,000. Another note of $5,000 was given by Hon. George G. Fogg of Concord, N. H. The question is whether good negotiable notes are "dollars" in the sense in which Mr. Bates employed the word when he made the payment of his $100,000 subscription conditional on raising of the $100,000 additional. A late despatch from Boston states that the commissioners have decided against the cl... of the College.

ITEMS FROM THE NORTHPORT SEA BREEZE. There are at least one hundred men at work on the grounds. C. B. Besse of Bucksport has commenced a new cottage on Maple street. Mr. Abbott's cottage on Griffin street is well along and will probably be the best on the grounds costing nearly $2,000. It is proposed to set out some shade trees in various parts of the "burnt district" next winter. Large trees will be set by what is termed the "Loso process" by which the tops and branches are not sacrificed. The "candy pull" of the season came off Thursday night at the Swan cottage on Park row. The attendance was large and the exercises lively. Music was furnished by the "Italian Band." The cottage is the abiding place of a party of gentlemen from Bangor. The Penobscot River Express Company has an office at the Grove House. There are about forty row boats here, nearly twice as many as ever befor. The "burnt district" is taking on a new appearance. The injured trees have been removd, Merithew square enlarged, Clinton avenue continued down to the shore and four large society cottages are being erected, with five smaller cottages. What seemed at the time to be a great misfortune has proved to be really of benefit to the grounds, as the improvements above alluded to show. The buildings being erected are among the best on the grounds and the locality has been improved in every sense.

Police Court.

In the Police Court, yesterday Patrick McTighe was fined one dollar and costs for an assault upon a boy named Wm. Johnson.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

August (Criminal) Term.

HON. JOHN A. PETERS, Justice Presiding.
B. H. MACE, ESQ., Co. Attorney.
RUEL SMITH, ESQ., Clerk.
WOODBURY PULSIFER, ESQ., Sten.

Wednesday, Aug 18.

The case of State vs. Wm. Potter for assault and battery, was given to the jury just before the adjournment in the forenoon, and on the coming in of court in the afternoon a verdict of guilty was returned. Mace, Co. Att'y. Donigan.

The Court sentenced Potter to pay a fine of $10, and expressed the opinion that there were palliating circumstances which made a light sentence all that was necessary in the interests of justice.

There being no other cases ready, both juries were dismissed until Tuesday morning, when a jury will be drawn for the trial of the case, State vs. Sarah Estes for arson.

A MEETING AT LAST.

The Fusionists Succeed in Organizing a Rally.

At last, after the numerous sickly efforts on the part of the Fusionists, they succeeded in getting out an audience at their rally in Norombega Hall last evening. The body of the hall was crowded but a number of seats in the galleries remained unoccupied all the evening. The meeting was called to order by G. L. Boynton, Esq., who designated Wm. H. McCrillis, Esq., as Chairman, and he introduced Gen. S. F. Cary, of Ohio, the speaker of the evening.

Gen. Cary spoke for two hours and a half, during which time he reiterated the fully exploded Greenback doctrines, such as abolishing the National Banks, calling in the bonds and flooding the country with a currency based upon nothing and redeemable nowhere at no time. He started out to annihilate Mr. English, the candidate for Vice President on the Democratic ticket, as a bloated bondholder, that gentleman having been President of a National Bank for fourteen years, but as the mention of his name called forth considerable applause, the speaker turned a backward somersault and let him down easily. The entire speech was of an inflammatory character, the only time that he soared above his customary level being when he paid a handsome tribute to the memory of the late President Lincoln, which called forth the most enthusiastic applause of the evening. The meeting closed with cheers.

The speaker was escorted to and from the hall by the Hancock Legion, Captain Frank A. Owen, to the number of about one hundred and twelve persons with torches. The uniforms consist of a red coat, black pants and blue helmet for the men in the ranks, while the officers wear a long white frock coat which looks very nicely. The procession presented a fine appearance, the men marching in a regular and orderly manner. The speaker rode in a carriage at the rear, with Messrs G. L. Boynton, Wm. H. McCrillis and Stephen Jennings, with J. P. Bass on the driver's seat as sort of a figure-head.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Political Matters at Calais.

CALAIS, Aug. 17, 1880.

Mr. Editor—Our Democratic and Greenback friends each threw to the breeze a flag last evening. On the former was the names of Hancock, English, Plaisted and Murch. On the latter, Weaver, Chambers, Plaisted and Murch. Some speaking was done under the Hancock and English flag, towards which the unterrified are urging the Greenbackers. The most of the speaking was done by "Sam Cary," but little could be heard outside the immediate vicinity of the speaker. Mr. Cary spoke to a goodly sized audience at St. Croix Hall in the evening. He spoke words of praise of the Republicans during the war, and his eulogistic utterances of the lamented Lincoln brought down the house with cheers that indicated the presence of many Republicans, and this caused some very wry faces among the old Bourbon element. It was judged by many to be a loose, random speech. The speaker evidently fell far below the expectations of the audience, seeming to begin in the middle and leave off at both ends. If our Democratic friends can stand this kind of speaking the Republicans can. The Republicans are full of hope and confident of success.

Flag Raising at Lee.

The Republicans of Lee have a flag raising on the 23d inst., when the people will be addressed by Capt. C. A. Boutelle. The Republicans of Lee are wide awake.

Campaign Club at Kenduskeag.

On Monday evening the Republicans of Kenduskeag organized a rousing Garfield and Davis club, and a glee club for active service in the campaign and are ready for work, and were never more enthusiastic, wide-awake and confident of victory than now. The following officers were chosen: President, O. K. Nason; Vice Presidents, V. S. Palmer, W. C. Spratt, T. W. Hodsdon, Chester Weld, John T. Cole, Albert Towle; Secretary, F. W. Clement; Treasurer, O. M. Harvey; Executive Committee, Frank Harvey, Alonzo Crane, Junius M. Cole, M. L. Fisher, R. S. Hodsdon. Our Glee club is organized and under the direction of O. H. Barrows, and we intend to wake them up.

Grand Meeting at Bradford.

Yesterday afternoon was a grand occasion for the Republicans at Bradford. There was an immense crowd in town from all the outlying country. A flag was raised bearing the names of Garfield and Arthur, Davis and Boutelle. Previous to its being raised to its position, it was borne up by little children. The raising of the flag was followed by a stirring speech by Col. Thomas J. Peaks, of Charleston. Headed by the Corinth Band, which furnished excellent music, the procession marched to the church, which failed to hold a fraction of the crowd. Seats were arranged outside, and the speakers stood on a platform in one of the windows. There was at least two thousand people present, while teams were gathered about in every direction. L. S. Bickmore, Esq., presided, and introduced the speakers. Gen. Woodford gave one of his eloquent, finished and fervid speeches, and was followed in a grand speech, completely covering the ground, by Hon. Wm. P. Frye. Capt. Boutelle spoke for about an hour on State and National issues, prefacing his remarks by paying a graceful tribute to the eloquent remarks of the speakers who had preceded him. The audience was full of enthusiasm, and it was one of the grandest meetings ever held in that section. An elegant supper was provided by the ladies for the speakers, the band, and other guests, at the residence of Rev. Thomas Kinney. Gen. Woodford and daughter, and Mr. Frye and wife, were entertained at dinner, and stopped last night at the hospitable home of Hon. Thomas R. Kingsbury.

Look for heavy Republican gains from Bradford and vicinity. Many who went out from the Republicans are heartily sick of the Fusionists and are coming into line again.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BURR FAMILIES. On Thursday of last week the descendants of Joseph and Charles Burr, assembled at North Milford for a grand reunion. The meeting was held on the grounds of Messrs. Higgins and Maxfield, their wives being descendants of one of the families. This place has often been selected for these meetings on account of being situated on the line of the European Railway where a majority of the descendants reside, and every member feels under great obligations to all connected with the road for the kind, considerate and gentlemanly treatment they have ever received at their hands. This time a special car was allotted to them for their convenience and left at Costigan until the evening train arrived, and nothing, even of the most trivial nature, occurred to mar the happinessof the trip.

It was found on arrival at North Milford that every preparation had been made to make the reunion pleasant and profitable. The residences of Messrs. Higgins and Maxfield are situated on one of the most picturesque and beautiful locations to be found on the Penobscot river, and they were thrown open in such a free, quiet and unassuming manner, for the use and inspection of their guests, that no one could help feeling perfectly at home, and the heat and inexpensive manner in which they are furnished, make them truly "ideal homes;" although they contain no costly furniture, they are filled with everything necessary for comfort and pleasure, giving them the appearance of "little houses into the sweet incense of whose fires go no costly and extravagant things." Tables were arranged under the beautiful and graceful willows which adorn the grounds. Before ten o'clock about one hundred had arrived, and if anything could be judged from outward appearances, a more talkative, social and happy family does not exist. At eleven o'clock the chairman of the committee of arrangements, Mr. Ferd. C. Burr, called the table committee together, and preparation for dinner was commenced, and by twelve o'clock the tables were arranged in the most tasteful and artistic manner, loaded with everything that could tempt the appetite, reflecting great credit upon the committee. Dinner was announced and all assembled around the tables and Rev. Mr. Crane, of Holden, an invited guest, invoked the Divine blessing, and a most satisfactory and pleasant hour was enjoyed at the tables. After which all amused themselves in ways best suited to their tastes, it being one of the most lovely of our summer days, they could find comfortable quarters anywhere. Before returning home a business meeting was held and all the officers of last year were re-elected. It was voted to meet at the "old homestead" in Brewer next year. The Secretary's report was read which showed that one marriage had occurred during the year, Miss Sarah Catherine Godfrey, daughter of Ard and Harriet N. Godfrey, of Minneapolis. Minn., to Mr. John E. Osbourne, of Minneapolis, formerly of Massachusetts. No deaths during the year.

All arrived home on the evening train in the most happy mood, and parted hoping to meet on the next anniversary with unbroken ranks, at the "old homestead."

Delicate females find Malt Bitters nourishing, strengthening and purifying. 8

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer has for many years occupied an honorable place in the toilet of American women, and has also attained popularity in foreign countries. This is because it does PERFORM what it promises. Its warmest friends are those who have used it longest, and those who sound its praise the loudest are those who from actual experience and personal trial have demonstrated that by its use gray hair is restored to its natural color and dry, harsh, and wiry hair is made soft and lustrous, a thing of beauty, and a matter of joy and pride to the wearer.—Sub-Soiler and Democrat, Corinth, Miss. aug19 1t

Montgomery Center, Vt., Feb. 25th, 1880.

Gentlemen—I feel it a duty and a pleasure not only to acknowledge my gratitude to you personally, but also to bring my case before the public, and testify after eight years intense suffering, what your Kidney-Wort has done for me. For the past year I have been taking different medicines for Kidney Disease, but derived no benefit. Have had trouble with my Kidneys for eight years very bad by spells, and for several months able to do but very little work, at times passing blood from the bladder, and experienced a prickly sensation all over. I was fearful of paralysis, and was dizzy, afraid to stoop over from fear of falling. At last in January commenced taking your Kidney-Wort and found almost immediate relief. One box made a new man of me. I feel almost as well as ever in my life, and I sincerely believe it will restore to health all who may be similarly afflicted.

HARD TIMES.

Many people have become mentally and nervously diseased from the depression caused by hard times, and suicides are shockingly frequent. It is cowardly to give way. What is needed is a remedy to purify the blood which has become feverish and foul from wear and tear of brain and nerves. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" goes to the root of the matter. It cleanses the blood, gives tone and strength to the system, and cheer and hopefulness to the mind. Its cures are permanent. Try a bottle. Sold by all druggists. Dr. David Kennedy, Proprietor, Rondout, N. Y. d&w2w aug6

"IT'S NO USE," HE SAID.

And we do not blame him for saying it. He was sick and in pain: he had been so for months. He had tried physicians' prescriptions and all the nostrums that had been recommended to him. So when a friend came in one night and said: "I have known Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" actually to cure worse cases than yours," the weary answer was: "It's no use, but I'll try it to please you. Here's the dollar. Go and get a bottle." It was done, and in a few weeks there was a new man in that town. In his gratitude he declared: "When I am in Rondout, N. Y., I'll stop in Dr. Kennedy's office, and tell him of this."—Exchange. d&w2w aug6

Mrs. Grundy says that some Saratoga ladies wear stockings that cost $125 per dozen.

The western papers tell of a boy who "peered fatally into the muzzle of a shotgun."

The Princess of Wales is weary of being rushed about and stared at. One cannot be a princess and enjoy all the comforts of the lowly.

A little girl, noticing the glittering gold filling in her aunt's front tooth, exclaimed: 'Aunt Mary, I wish I had copper-toed teeth like yours."

The name of Thomas C. Eastman, formerly a Dennysville boy, stands among the heavy tax payers in the town of Milford, Mass.

Mrs. Ira Bucklin of Lebanon, N. H., has made 106 pounds of butter during the past three months, from the milk of one cow, and has not been sparing in the use of milk and cream in the family either.

A girl just returned to Hannibal from a Boston High School said, upon seeing a fire engine at work: "Who would evah have dweamed such a vewey diminutive looking apawatus would hold so much wattah?"

The new costume worn in a London ball-room is thus described by the London World: "Lost, at the Bachelor's Ball, a bouquet two feet in diameter. When last seen it formed the chief article of costume worn by a pretty blond.

Samuel B. Day at Wesley, Me., reports that in fourteen years ending March, 1880, he had killed 122 bears. He seldom, if at all, late years captures or kills a cub. He prefers to let them run as he says,—"I am sure of them by and by."

The quantity of butter depends fully as much upon the quality as upon the quantity of the milk. An exchange has an account of two cows, one of which gave sixteen quarts of milk, while the other gave only ten; yet the latter's milk made the most butter, week after week.

The apple crop in many sections of Massachusetts will be abundant and excellent this season, as well as cheap in price. Western apples are now selling in the Bangor market from $2.00 to $3.00 per barrel, according to quality, while those raised in this vicinity $1.00 to $2.50 per barrel. It is expected they will be sold at very reasonable prices during the fall.

One of the Boston National Banks was $900 short in his cash account the other day and all attempts to trace the missing money were for the time unavailing. A day or two later a teamster living in Mattapan came to the window and asked the teller if they corrected mistakes. He was told "when in error we do." He then passed over a $1000 bill, remarking that he only owned $100 of it. He had drawn a check of about $300 two days before, and did not discover the teller's mistake until he reached home. The bank presented him with a $50 bill for his trouble.

Last week the blueberry business was at its height. Seven factories, two at Machias, one each at Columbia Falls, Harrington and Milbridge and two at Cherryfield were in full operation. By careful estimate these factories used 100 bushels of berries each per day. This would give about 4000 bushels for the week. It is probable that 2000 bushels were used by families, table supply, canned, etc., and sent forward by boat and team to markets at a distance, making 6000 bushels the week's work. This is a low estimate. At three cents to the pickers they realized $1,800.

The New York Tribune's "Kirby Homestead" correspondent, makes the practical suggestion that it costs no more to winter an old hog than it does a pig. The practical difference is that a breeding sow may be kept on the same feed which a pig would require, and in the spring a litter of young ones would make a large margin in favor of the one. Old sows are twice as profitable as young ones, as the offspring are always larger and more of them. They may be kept a number of years with profit. When a year old, small boned breeds will have their growth and require but little food, only enough to maintain life and locomotion, whereas a growing pig requires food for the same purposes and to promote its growth.

The wife of Mr. Robert J. Burdette, the celebrated humorist, of the Burlington Hawkeye, has long been an invalid, and the husband's devotion to her is very touching. All his writing is done in her room, and read to her before it is sent to press. In declining an invitation to attend a college society reunion recently, Mr. Burdette wrote: "Mrs. Burdette's health—if the poor little sufferer's combination of aches and pains and helplessness may be designated by such a sarcastic appellation—has been steadily failing all winter, and we have come down to this seagirt island to see if old ocean and its breezes may do what the doctors and mountains and prairies have failed to do. And here we are waiting. 'Her little serene highness,' unable to stand alone (for years she had been unable to walk,) her helpless hands folded in her lap; she must be dressed, carried about, cared for like a baby, suffering from countless pains and aches, day and night, and I cannot leave her even for a few days. No one at Chautauqua will feel the disappointment as we do, for we had planned to go there together. If she could go with me, I would be glad enough to creep to Chautauqua on my knees. Her life has been a fountain of strength to me. In her long years I have never seen the look of pain out of her eyes, and for more than half so long I have seen her sitting in patient helplessness, and I have never heard a complaining murmur from her lips while she has served as those who only stand and wait, never questioning and never doubting the wisdom and the goodness of the Father whose hand has been laid upon her so heavily. The beautiful patience of her life has been a constant rebuke to my own impatience, and in her sufferings I have seen and known and believed the 'love that knows no fear,' and the faith that 'knows no doubt.'"

BANGOR, MAINE,

FOR 1880.

The following TRADE CIRCULAR is presented by the undersigned representative Wholesale Dealers and Manufacturers of Bangor, who desire to promote the trade interests of the City, and present a convenient and reliable buyer's guide, which cannot fail to prove of great interest to Merchants and Manufacturers generally.
